Sent to the Asylum.
Mrs. Silas Cobb was tried by a jury before Judge J. R. Barnum, last Wednesday, at her home at Celest, on a writ of lunacy. She was found to be of unsound mind. The trouble has been coming on since March. She imagines that she is compelled to move and wants to tear up things and get ready for the removal. She was taken to Lexington.

Free Silver.
We extend thanks to manager Smith, of the Richmond Bottling Works, and agent of the Christian Moelein Brewing Co., Cincinnati, for an elegant silver match case, beautifully engraved. As it is a present, it is therefore free silver, and we are sorry that it is limited—should like to have a thousand or so of them.

Surprised Darkey.
During the meeting of the Kt. Temp. Loc. 40, one of the Grand officers asked a local knight to find a boy to watch him during his stay in the city, which was done. The boy had apparently nothing to do. When the man gave him $3 and asked him if he would pay him, Beckridge's eyes flew wide open and he almost declared himself for free silver, as he thought he had done only about 25cts worth of service.

After a Long Illness.
Cyrus F. Turner died in Richmond, Ky., on Saturday, June 21st, 1886, aged about 46 years. Buried on Sunday in the family lot in the cemetery, from the home of his son, Mr. H. H. Turner. He had been ill for several months. He was a son of the late M. K. Turner. Formerly was a watch-maker, but had followed several callings, his last being a hotel man in Ohio. Cy Turner had a very good family and numerous friends.

Only Half a Dozen Portrayed.
The New York World had only half a dozen pictures of the prominent men at the St. Louis convention. One of this was Judge Wm. Frazee, of Missisippi, a brother of Dr. L. J. Frazee, this place. Judge Frazee was attorney for a contested delegation. He, like his brother, was a good looking man, but after the war went off with the Republicans and was elected Circuit Judge, then became collector of Internal Revenue. He is a rich man with a good law practice.

Gene to Europe.
Miss Minnie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Armstrong, of Dallas, Texas, and grand-daughter of Capt. F. J. White, sailed from New York, this week, with a party for Europe, for a two month's tour. Minnie is a beautiful and gifted young lady, and has many friends here who wish her a pleasant voyage and safe return.—Lancaster Record.

Surprised the Camp.
About noon on Thursday, collector Rodeo's office was taken completely by surprise and surrendered unconditionally. Mrs. W. H. Miller sent to the office an abundance of the most delicious ice cream and cake and the finest coffee imaginable. The force took a recess, and as actions speak louder than words, profoundly thanked the thoughtful lady for her continued action with the spoons as well as their tongues. In substance they resolved that it would be a glorious thing if there were a Mrs. Miller for every day in the year.

Died at Mt. Pleasant.
Kills Burgin died at his home on the Lexington pike, at Mt. Pleasant church, on Monday, June 22, 1886, aged 55 years. Buried at the old family graveyard on the road between Fordson and Red House. Deceased had been sick two years and confined to his bed three months. He leaves a wife, sister to H. K. Harr, this place, and a daughter, Miss Tillie, of his first wife. Also four brothers—Jason, of Versailles; Jasper, of Colorado; Allen, of Kansas; and Madison, of White Hall. His father was Kills Burgin, Sr., who had fifteen children.

Appreciated.
A subscriber who failed to get the CLIMAX last week, telephoned from Whites Station at a cost of 15 cents, to let the editor know that he had received a copy sent at once, as the people about Whites Mill couldn't do without it.

Toll Free to Mill.
The law provides that persons going to and from mill with their sacks on horseback shall pass toll gates free. A West End man solved for a while the question of toll gates that have been caught by always being outside a sack when he passed the gates. The keepers thought he was using a vast amount of meat at his house, but raised the pole and said nothing. They resolved, however, to investigate the first chance that presented itself, when it was discovered that he had been using to deceive long, had also become hard tack. Lock No. 7.
The job of pumping out the lock pit at the new lock No. 7, on the Kentucky river, has been successfully accomplished. No spring or leaks were found inside the coffer dam, and Lieut. Hart and his men are jubilant over the prospects ahead. The mud is being rapidly cleared off the solid rock bottom of the pit, and when this is done laying of stone will begin. Every kind of apparatus known that will tend to speed the new lock to completion is on hand, so is the material and the men are all progressive there. Lieut. Hart and his men and the sub-contractors are all hustlers, just such as Uncle Sam should have all over this country.—Nicholasville Journal.

As to "Quitters."
One of the chroniclers of the doings at St. Louis says that when "Sam" Fessenden, of Connecticut, learned that "Joe" Manley, of Maine, had thrown up the Red sponge, he shook his fist in the Maine man's face and ejaculated: "Joe, the Almighty God hates quitters!"

Up to Congress where they mix their politics and their greed, and (not improving either), it is a common thing for men to assume a thorough knowledge of the mind of the Deity. They speak of Him as familiarly and as confidently as they would of their grocer. But is Mr. Fessenden perfectly sure that "the Almighty God" (as he says) hates the man who quits the railroad track when he sees the locomotive coming? Does He hate a mortal who quits the pasture when a raging bull is charging down upon him? Does He "hate the quitter" who betakes himself to the cyclone cellar when the dreaded storm approaches?

Manley's admission was unnecessary and premature, but simply recognized and stated a fact obvious to everybody. Is there really no difference between heroism and what Dostoevsky called "dampboobism"?—New York World.

Worse and More of It.
In ye olden time, flowers only were used at a commemorative presentation to favorites of the class. They were cut flowers and not in great quantity. Neither were the boys' large. But as time rolled on the flowers really passed into massive institutions, and finally potted flowers and even plants were added. This was not enough, and fruits were added to the icing layer list. Then came the time when they began to be used. Only the other day we saw a watermelon laid at the feet of a graduate, and a suit of clothes or a dozen shirts or something of that sort in a suit box triumphantly placed before another one. It has now become impossible to distinguish between a commencement and a Christmas tree, but for the good year, with a few vegetables added, the scene would look like an Episcopal church at "harvest festival time," or like a country fair. By the way, we did not enlarge the field of commencement as to include pigs, cows, a horse and buggy, combined reaper and mower, a threshing machine and even a house and lot or a farm? An elegant line of poultry, dogs and fishing tackle would not be amiss. What would look better on the rostrum before a large class of graduates than an electric street car, or a beautiful steam ferry boat or pleasure launch?

The Indorsement of R. N. I. & B. Bonds Held Valid.
CINCINNATI, O., June 22.—In the United States Court of Appeals to-day a decision was handed down, holding that the Monon railroad's indorsement of the Richmond, Nicholasville & Irvine railroad bonds, to the amount of $650,000, is valid.

These bonds were issued for the construction of the road from Richmond to Kentucky. When the Southern passed the Richmond, Nicholasville & Irvine railroad bonds, to the amount of $650,000, it was a valid.

There were four different suits brought to test the validity of the bonds issued by the Louisville Trust Company, represented by St. John Boyle, the Kentucky National Bank, by Humphrey & Davis, Dillingham and others, by Noble and Sherry. The contention of the bondholders was sustained by the court in these three cases.

There is some speculation as to the effect the decision upon the future of the Monon.

The decision calls for $1,000,000. The Monon has not the money, and it is not easy to get in times like these. Either it will have to raise the amount or effect a compromise.

"The Comforter."
After a long absence, Rev. George O. Barnes, the celebrated evangelist, returned to Louisville last night to conduct one of his evangelistic meetings. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Marie, and "Little Organ," No. 4. He opened his campaign in the gymnasium of Hampton College before a small but interested audience last night.

Mr. Barnes' last visit of note was in 1879 and 1880, when he conducted a celebrated meeting here. About five years ago he delivered a single sermon at Music Hall. Mr. Barnes said last night he was very glad to get back to Louisville, having many friends here.

"I am here for a regular evangelistic meeting," said Mr. Barnes. "How long I shall stay will be governed by the interest manifested. If it increases I shall probably make a long stay, but otherwise the meeting will be short. I chose this place because we are entirely dependent on our friends. I am barred, as you know, from most of the churches. However, I find so much opposition as formerly. People seem to be reaching the conclusion that I am not such a bad man, after all. Yes, we still have the little organ. We have worn out three, the present one having been given us recently by our friends in Lancaster."

Mr. Barnes has changed much since he first held services in Louisville. He has lost much of his fire and fervor, but is still a powerful speaker. His daughter is not the little girlish Marie of twenty years ago. She is a well developed woman now, but her voice is still sweet.

Completely at 8 o'clock the services were opened by Mr. Barnes and his daughter, by the singing of the hymn, "The Lord is My Rock," accompanied by the "Little Organ." None of the audience joined. Mr. Barnes then offered prayer, after which Miss Marie sang as solo, "Only a Little Sparrow." Mr. Barnes then read passages from the sixteenth chapter of John. Mr. Barnes took as his text the passage in 1 John, 2:1, "If any man sin we have a comforter with the Father."—Courier-Journal.

Reorganization of the R. N. I. & B.
A new plan is on foot for the reorganization of the Richmond, Nicholasville & Irvine and Kentucky river railroad, which has been in the hands of a receiver for some time. Some months ago the plan was ordered sold by the Federal Court, an upset price of $500,000 being put upon it. It has twice been offered at public auction, but there were no bidders. The first mortgage bondholders are the only ones who could be expected to reorganize the road, and they are not willing to take hold of it. The reason is that there are about $500,000 in the stock of mechanics' liens and $15,000 in receiver's certificates standing against the road, and these have a prior claim to the bonds. In order for them to get control of the road, therefore, it would be necessary for them to put up $650,000, and this they are unwilling and unable to do. The lien holders, however, who in the present state of affairs seem to have no chance of making anything out of their paper, have another plan on foot. It is to let the first take the road, putting up only enough money to cover the receiver's certificates, which have the first claim. They would then issue second mortgage bonds to cover the liens, not having to put up this money. Shannahan & Co., who are the largest lien holders, are said to be at the head of this movement. Some time ago the first made an attempt to reorganize the road on the plan issuing first mortgage bonds for the receiver's certificates, and second mortgage for the liens, they to take stock for their original first mortgage. This plan fell through, however, and since then the bondholders have done nothing. Those who are familiar with the matter say there is a poor chance for the success of the present movement.—Nicholasville Journal.

Married in Ohio.
Rev. Joseph Specht, a visiting minister, and Miss Turner, a young lady who came here with her sister, Mrs. Lake, also a visitor, both of Memphis, eloped on Friday night and were married in Ohio. Considerable effort was made to intercept them, but failed. The parties are said to be wealthy.

A Fuller Account.
Quite a sensational elopement occurred here on Thursday last, the contracting parties being Mr. Joseph Specht, of Virginia, and Miss Ella Turner, of Tennessee. Mr. Specht has been stopping at the Gylndon Hotel about three weeks and Miss Turner has been spending the summer at the Henderson House with her sister, Mrs. W. L. Lake, who has been making Richmond her home since a fall. The runaway left the Henderson House Thursday afternoon for a drive, and shortly afterwards Mrs. Lake discovered that her sisters room had been divested of all toilet articles and clothing, suspecting the reason; and, procuring assistance, took the Kentucky Central train for Winchester, expecting to capture the elopers at the local station where they were expected to alight. Not finding them, she proceeded to Lexington where they had fled, and having had her sister detained. The plan had been too well laid, however, for instead of taking the train, the would-be bride and groom, aided by others, drove to Lexington, where they procured a fresh team and horses and drove the entire distance to Georgetown, O., where, on Friday afternoon, they became man and wife.

There is always a tendency upon the part of the public generally to side with eloping parties, but in this case it seems that the opposition of the elder sister and her earnest efforts to prevent the elopement are commendable and not without good reason.

Mr. Specht is a son of Joseph Specht, who owns and resides at "Gaston Hall," the old George Mason homestead, adjoining Mt. Vernon, near Alexandria, Va., but while he comes of a wealthy and prominent family, this alone did not render him eligible. Having been recognized in France the "volunteer" of Mechuans; not long afterward they were manufactured in this country. But it was at the Centennial Exhibition in Philadelphia in 1876, to which we owe so much, that the bicycle, the old "ordinary" of 60 inches of diameter, was seen. From then to now! The change—rather changes—are wonderful, beginning with the bicycle of 1876, and continuing to the "safety" of 1885, the solid tire of 1889, the cushion tire of 1891, and the pneumatic tire of 1892. The cost of the wheel has not varied as much as might have been expected, there having been an increase from $90 in 1876 to $110 in 1885, to $125 from 1885 to 1890, then to $135 in 1891, then to $150 in 1892, and the cycle for 1893, to $160, to $170 in 1895, and $180 to $35 in 1896. This price for the profits of cycle making are large—due to the fact that the manufacturer only now is able to supply the demand; the next year the price is sure to touch a lower mark, and so on, till a fair manufacturer's profit is made, when it will be, we shall see a great "wheel trade" created.

As to the influence of the wheel upon our sociological life, they are many and constantly widening. The wheel affords opportunity for rapid communication, and for easy and exhilarating exercise, which nothing can equal as to economy in time or cost, and which nothing else can supply in the matter of exercising particular functions of the body which are called into play. But to women even more than men does the little machine come with its whispered assurance of relief from physical limitation, and emancipation from the monotony and inactivity of indoor life. To her it bids fair to bring back not only robustness of limb and strength of muscle, but the normal poise of the body, the loss of which is slowly but surely helping to fill our hospital wards with patients who give employment to the surgeon's knife. Then, the pneumatic tire change jolts into vibrations, while rapid movement carries the rider away from too familiar scenes. And we have the theory of the physicians for saying that an long and arduous cycle for some reason into the tissues of the body than can be absorbed in a much longer time under

No Principal Elected.
The Board of Education has not selected a principal for Caldwell High school. Prof. Clark declined to accept the $1,200 offer. A strong pressure is being brought upon the Board in behalf of Prof. J. R. Harris, who has had twenty-seven consecutive years of experience, several of which were as principal of the school in question. He is a fine disciplinarian, is up on all the modern phases of teaching and a successful teacher.

There are numerous applicants and the Board has work before it.

Gladness Comes
With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a complicated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly cures. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without irritating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to not when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physician, but in the case of a laxative one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

A number of bicycle riders in Lancaster have requested this Record to ask the farmers and town people who are trimming their hedge fences to please throw the branches clipped therefrom, on the inside of their premises so the thorns will not puncture the tires of the wheelmen. A branch of hedge thrown down can do more to ruin a spin on a wheel than any other one thing. Owners of this kind of land will therefore receive the everlasting thanks of the "thick" folks of this section if they will kindly see to the proper disposal of their thorns. Another detraction from a pleasant ride is found on Lexington street where the rock hangers persist in dropping from their wagons, in the middle of the pike, bowlders large enough to turn a buggy over on its side. The city fathers should put a stop to this.—Lancaster Record.

A retail bike dealer in Washington City cleared $40,000 on sales to May last. The wheelmen of the country can well afford to stop and consider seriously the good work done at the National Republican Convention at St. Louis, says the New York Tribune. The selection of Garret A. Hobart for the Vice-Presidency puts an emphatic friend of the cyclists to the front. Mr. Hobart has for many years been an ardent admirer of the bicycle, and a most loyal advocate of the one thing which all wheelmen are interested in—good roads. If there is anything on earth which appeals to the deep-thinking riders of the wheel, it is well made and well kept roads. When Mr. Hobart was in the State Senate of New Jersey several years ago his work in behalf of good roads was generally recognized. In a recent year he was always ready to help out the wheelmen whenever the question of good roads came up for action or discussion. Mr. Hobart has had the satisfaction, after years of zealous endeavor, of seeing the State of New Jersey become a paradise for wheelmen and horsemen, and famous the country over for its system of roads. The municipal roads and the country roads, throughout the State, furnish the most popular rides for wheelmen and horsemen in this part of the country.

The recent bicycle exhibition in New York thronged constantly by countless thousands, bespeaks the public interest in this method of recreation, which is only twenty years old. It was just the close of our civil war in 1863 that there appeared in France the "velocipede" of Mechuans; not long afterward they were manufactured in this country.
